Bombers To Carry Atomic Bombs Are Sent To Alaska

B-36s Being Flown From Carswell Base At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Movement of long-range B-36s to bases in Alaska, manned by crews trained to deliver the atomic bomb, began last week almost at the same time President Truman gave the world the startling news that Russia had the secret of atomic fission, the Star-Telegram learned today.

Although headquarters here of the 8th Air Force at Carswell air base described the B-36 flights as "routine training missions," it was known that one of the first planes carried Brig. Gen. John B. Montgomery, of Omaha, operations chief of the strategic air command, and Col. William P. Fisher, commander of Carswell and its 7th bombardment wing—the only wing in the air force operating B-36s.

Maj. Gen. Roger Ramey, the 8th's commander and one of the top experts in the air force on atomic warfare, was scheduled to return to his headquarters here today after more than a week of conferences in Washington.

Col. Cecil Combs, Ramey's deputy commander left Carswell Tuesday on one of the B-36 flights to John Montgomery and Fisher at Eielson air base near Fairbanks.

Combs was accompanied by Maj. Gen. Earl Barnes, member of Secretary of Defense Johnson's special weapons evaluation board.

Previous test flights from Carswell to Alaska, Montgomery made during the summer, to test operational characteristics of the big planes in weather conditions of the Far North and to survey factors.

New Members For State Boards Are Named By Shivers

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 29.—(AP)—Two new members for both the state board of water engineers and the game, fish and oyster commission were named yesterday by Gov. Allan Shivers.

He also appointed J. C. Wilson of Pecos as Pecos River Compact Commission for Texas to fill the unexpired term of the late Charles H. Miller of Barstow. The term runs to May 5, 1955.

Andrew P. Rollins, Dallas engineer, and James S. Guleke, Amarillo, irrigation farmer and rancher, were nominated for places on the State Board of Water Engineers.

Walter Lechner of Eagle Mountain Lake, Tarrant county, and Scott Schreiner of Kerrville, will be new members of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission.

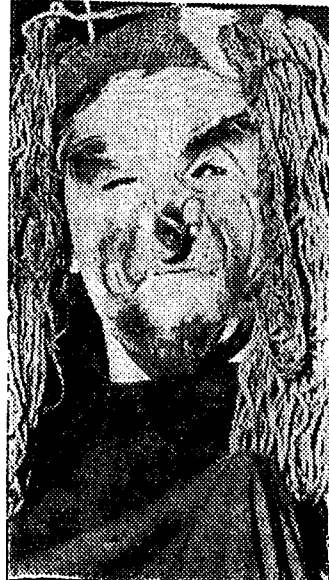

Lechner is an oil operator and business man. He replaces Murrell L. Buckner of Dallas for a six-year term.

Schreiner, former University of Texas Board of Regents member, is a rancher, sportsman and game conservationist. He succeeds Frank Jones of Marfa.

Rollins will begin a six-year term on the water board Nov. 1, replacing John W. Pritchett of Austin. Pritchett goes on state retirement on that date. Rollins is a Texas A. & M. engineering graduate, class of 1906, served in both World Wars, and has had wide experience in water engineering problems.

Guleke, 27, will fill the unexpired term of E. J. Spence who has become interstate compact commissioner for the Canadian, Sabine and Red rivers. He will serve to Aug. 10, 1953.

Guleke is a 1945 graduate of West Texas State. He was chief radar officer on the New Jersey, flagship of Admirals Halsey and Spruance. He left naval service in 1946. He is married and has two children.

F. P. McElwath Funeral Rites Here Saturday

Frank P. McElwath, 70, Combes plantation operator, former road contractor of Corsicana, died in a Harlingen hospital Thursday morning following an extended illness.

Funeral services will be held from the McElwath chapel Saturday morning at 11 o'clock with burial in Oakwood cemetery. The rites will be conducted by Dr. Erwin F. Bohmfalk, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Survivors will be Luther A. Johnson, Jr., Lewis David, Andrew Rogers, William Galloway, Ed Pickett, Jr., Frank P. McElwath, III, Dr. A. W. Rogers, A. G. Elliott, H. D. Johnson, J. S. Murchison, W. E. Slaughter, Joe B. Fortson, Boyce Martin, L. A. Johnson, Sr.; Dr. E. H. Newton, Duke Ransom, N. Suttle Roberts, E. E. Babers, Roy Jones, Sidney Jones, Ed M. Polk, and Tyree L. Bell.

McElwath was the head of the McElwath and Rogers firm, McElwath Construction Company and other road building concerns in this section years ago, and constructed much of the early highways and improved roads in Navarre and other counties.

At the time of his death he was the operator of extensive citrus and cotton holdings in the Rio Grande Valley area and was president of the Texas Vegetable Growers Association and also of the Harlingen vegetable growers organization.

Long a prominent layman of the Methodist church, McElwath served the First Methodist church here as chairman of the Christian education committee, superintendent of the church school, was a steward, trustee and Sunday school teacher.

Surviving are his wife of Combes; five sons, Frank P. McElwath, Jr., and John McElwath, both of San Antonio; Redus and David McElwath, both of Harlingen; and Albert McElwath, Corpus Christi; a daughter, Mrs. Ed Pickett, Port Arthur; several grandchildren and other relatives.

McElwath's funeral home will direct.

Social Security.—WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(AP)—The ways and means committee called today for speedy house action on legislation vastly expanding the government's social security program. A start may be made there as early as next Tuesday but there appears little prospect of senate action before the next session.

Major Producers Of Steel Getting Ready For Strike

Two Companies End Negotiations With Murray's Union

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 29.—(AP)—CIO United Steelworkers today announced the Portsmouth Steel Corporation had agreed to a 10-cent hourly non-contributory pension and insurance program.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Two major steel producers broke off negotiations with the CIO United Steelworkers today and the industry started shutting down as the Friday midnight strike deadline approached.

Bethlehem and Republic, the nation's second and third largest producers respectively, stopped bargaining. But industry leader United States Steel and Union President Philip Murray arranged another session (2 p. m. EST). Big Steel-Murray talks which usually chart industry's course apparently are jammed with neither side budging.

Steel plants across the country meantime put into effect plans for an orderly shutdown. Banking of furnaces is under way. It takes 24 to 48 hours for an orderly halt in steel operations.

Bethlehem Steel and the union stopped bargaining in what negotiators called "a complete stalemate." No new sessions are scheduled.

Bargaining broke down over union insistence on a 10-cent hourly pension and insurance package to be wholly financed by the company. Bethlehem's previous offer of a pension and insurance program was rejected because it called for worker contributions contrary to recommendations of a presidential fact finding board.

Republic Steel Corporation at Cleveland offered a contributory pension-insurance plan which the union completely rejected. The offer was for the company to contribute four cents per hour for insurance and six cents for pension. Employees would pay at least two cents toward the insurance.

Negotiations halted after the union rejected the proposal. No new sessions are scheduled.

Ambush Attack and Dynamite Blasts Feature Strike In Coal Fields

By The Associated Press
Haddon riflemen ambushed a 14-truck coal convoy on Snow Shoe Mountain in central Pennsylvania today, firing a dozen shots at the non-union truckers. No one was hurt.

Earlier dynamite blasts wrecked non-union mine tipplers in Pennsylvania and Kentucky.

It was the fourth straight day of violent outbreaks in the nation's coal fields.

State Policeman Howard Hancock said no pickets were in sight when the heavily guarded convoy began its slow descent of the mountain.

"We didn't know we were being fired upon at first," said State Police Corporal Robert Daily. "But after the first few shots we realized what it was and stopped the caravan."

He led a detail of troopers into the thickly wooded area, found no one.

The explosion at Butler county, Ky., caused several thousand dollars worth of damage. A tipple and nearby motor house were destroyed and the countryside rocked for several miles.

The Pennsylvania blast at Grass Flats was blamed by Robert M. Smith, president of the United Mine Workers pickets.

"There's no doubt about it," Smith declared. "It was an out-and-out case of sabotage."

He estimated damage at $10,000. The explosions, together with a state-of-emergency directive by Virginia's governor, William M. Tucker, provided a turbulent background for the resumption of negotiations.

Friday Is Negro Day At Fair With Parade Scheduled

The fourth day of the 13th annual Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural Show and Rodeo will be highlighted with a negro parade Friday at 2:30 p. m. This second parade will follow the opening day parade.

The parade officials promise floats decorated with cars, horses, marching units and several musical organizations will take part in the line-of-march.

The parade will assemble on North Main street at West Third avenue and march south down Main to West Seventh avenue and then go east to Beaton street. The parade will go north on Beaton to Third, then east to Commerce street and south to place of disembarkment.

Friday is negro-day at the fair and all negro school children of Navarre county will be admitted to the grounds free.

ON WAY TO DEVALUATION DEBATE—Former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill (right), accompanied by U. S. ## High Employment Here Revealed By Agency's Records

The labor market information report for September, released by W. B. Reedy, local director of the Texas Employment Commission office, revealed claims for unemployment compensation dipped to a new low for the year.

Reedy said only 34 new claims for benefits were filed at the local office. During May, 435 initial claims were recorded.

Navarro county's huge cotton crop continued to highlight the labor market during the month.

Reedy said the weather was not ideal for harvesting what appears to be the county's largest crop in many years.

Reedy said domestic and service jobs and certain types of labor jobs went begging during the month and dozens of jobs listed with the local office were unfilled at the end of September.

The houses of lords, predominantly conservative, voted approval of the government's economic policy last night, 93 to 24. But the lords have no real power and the critical test comes in the commons.

There seemed little doubt that the laborites would be victorious over Churchill's conservatives in the vote climaxing the three-day special parliamentary debate on devaluation of the pound.

After the ballot on conservative leader Winston Churchill's "No confidence" motion, the house will vote on a government motion asking approval of its devaluation action as one short-term answer to the financial crisis.

Before the voting, expected about 3 p. m. CST, there will be a day-long debate, with labor's health minister, Aneurin Bevan as the first speaker. Conservative Oliver Lyttleton will follow Bevan, then Churchill's right hand in parliament, Anthony Eden, will sum up the opposition's case against the government.

Russia Abandons Her Treaty Of Friendship With Marshal Tito

LONDON, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Soviet Russia scrapped her friendship treaty with Yugoslavia today, declaring that Premier Marshal Tito's regime has lined up with "foreign imperialist circles."

The decision ending the alliance signed in 1945 was disclosed in a Soviet note to Yugoslavia. It was broadcast by Moscow Radio.

The note declared the Budapest treason trial of former Hungarian foreign minister Laszlo Rajk, sentenced to death Saturday, disclosed Yugoslavia had been carrying on hostile activity against the Soviet Union.

Rajk was accused specifically of plotting with Yugoslav and American agents to overthrow the Moscow-backed Communist government in Hungary. Marshal Tito denounced the trial as a Russian propaganda move aimed at weakening his Yugoslav regime.

The Russian action was the sharpest diplomatic slap at Yugoslavia since the Moscow-Led Communist International Information Bureau expelled the Yugoslavs in June, 1948. Since that time Russia and her eastern European satellites have clamped an economic boycott on Yugoslavia.

American Vessels Are Detained By Chinese Blockade

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(AP)—The State Department announced today that three American merchant ships are being detained near Shanghai by Chinese Nationalist blockade forces.

The ships are the Flying Trader en route from Hongkong to Shanghai, and the Flying Independent and the Tying Clipper, outbound from Shanghai. All are operated by the Isbrandtsen Co., New York.

The United States does not recognize legality of the blockade declared by the Nationalists for Shanghai and other China port cities. The State Department said it has asked for full reports from American authorities in Shanghai before deciding on "an appropriate course of action."

The report of the incident came from the American Consulate General at Shanghai. It said the three ships were intercepted by Chinese naval craft off the mouth of the Yangtze river and "requested" to anchor.

The department's announcement said the Nationalist forces had denied permission for these American ships to proceed to their destination and had advised their shipmasters that officers from the warships would board and inspect the vessels.

Aboard the Flying Independent, the report said, was Andrew Frinkley, Isbrandtsen Line Far Eastern representative. The consulate had its first word by radio directly from the ships.

The Nationalists proclaimed the blockade last June as part of their campaign against Communist armies who seized Shanghai and other ports.

Commons Grants Confidence Vote To Labor Regime

LATE BULLETIN.
LONDON, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Britain's Labor government defeated a Conservative motion of no confidence tonight by a vote of 339 to 212 in the house of commons.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—(AP)—The house of commons votes today on Winston Churchill's appeal to let out the labor government for failing to curb Britain's economic crisis.

There seemed little doubt that the laborites would be victorious over Churchill's conservatives in the vote climaxing the three-day special parliamentary debate on devaluation of the pound.

Junior College Trustees Authorize Sale Of Bonds; Election Canvassed

Returns of the Sept. 22 election whereby Navarro county authorized the issuance of $500,000 bonds for the construction of a new plant for the Navarro Junior College were canvassed and declared at a meeting of the trustees here Wednesday afternoon.

The official returns showed 1,020 votes for the issuance of the bonds and the levying of 20 cents for interest and maturing in 1960 against the proposition. There were 983 votes for the eight-cent maintenance tax and 642 votes against the measure—the identical vote tally reported by this newspaper on election night and the following morning in the complete unofficial returns from the 20 school districts.

The motion to declare the returns was made by J. W. Lockard of Richmond and the second was by L. B. Dawson, with all voting aye.

It was decided to advertise the bonds for sale on November 15 and the 540 bonds in $1,000 denominations will be signed by John R. Corley, president, and L. K. Carraway, secretary.

Following a discussion, it was decided that since the lease on the present site southeast of Corsicana has 3 1/2 years remaining, there was no need for any particular hurry in the construction of the new plant on the 46-acre tract in the western section of Corsicana. The employment of an architect and other matters incident to the beginning of the new plant was deferred until after Jan. 1, 1950, except for the sale of the bonds.

Cold Wave Brings Low Temperature For This State

By The Associated Press
Temperatures dropped to seasonal lows in north and central Texas with overnight lows reported in the upper 40's.

Elsewhere the temperatures were in the 50's and 60's except in the extreme south.

Dalhart in the Panhandle reported 45. Texarkana had 46. Cleburne and Sherman 47 and Tyler and Amarillo 48.

As a cold front moved across the state yesterday afternoon, daytime highs ranged from the upper 70's in the northwest to 98 at Alice in South Texas.

Skies were clear today.

Forecast for East Texas is fair and a little cooler this afternoon and tonight. Friday it will be fair and warmer in the north and west portions. Moderate to fresh north and northeast winds are expected on the coast.

West Texas will be fair and a little warmer in the Panhandle and south plains this afternoon.

History-Making Labor Contract Is Agreed Upon

Motor Company Will Follow Pattern Of Fact-Finders

DETROIT, Sept. 29.—(AP)—The Ford Motor Co. and the CIO United Auto Workers reached agreement early today on a history-making pension plan to be financed by the company.

It will pay $100 monthly—including Social Security—to Ford workers over 65.

The agreement, based on a tentative plan, was recommended by Presidential fact-finding board in the steel industry, averted a strike of 115,000 Ford production workers.

The Marathon negotiations ran nearly 36 hours without recess and set an endurance record for the auto industry. As late as midnight, when the old contract expired, UAW president, Walter P. Reuther, said he would accept a 50-50 chance a walkout might be called.

The new pact runs two and a half years, giving hope of long peace in the industry.

Effective Oct. 1, providing it is ratified by rank and file Ford workers, the new contract is unique in the auto industry's history in at least three respects:

1.—It calls for the first major pension plan, and the company agreed for the first time to shoulder the entire financial responsibility for pensions.

2.—For the first time, the union let its demand for an hourly wage increase to be based on the expansion of security provisions. The present wage rate of $1.65 an hour will be continued.

3.—The 30-month duration, a record in the auto industry.

The pact may well affect millions of workers in the nation's other heavy industry—particularly steel workers.

Ford Vice President John S. Bugas said his firm's pension agreement was based on the expansion of the 10-cent an hour limit recommended by a Presidential fact-finding board in the steel industry.

That "package" has not yet been agreed upon by the two sides. A strike has been set for midnight tomorrow.

"This agreement," Reuther said, "points the way in the steel industry where well are settling a principle established by the pension should be entirely company-financed. It will lay the groundwork in our industry for moving forward."

Reuther said his company eventually would be paying $20,000,000 a year for pensions.

Many Americans May Be Affected By Ford Pattern

DETROIT, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Millions of American workers may be affected by the pension plan set up today at Ford Motor Co. Here is the plan in brief:

Workers may retire at 65; they must have 30 years of service.

2.—If they have 30 years Ford service, they can depend on $100 monthly. Part of it will come from Federal Social Security payments.

3.—Those retiring with less than 30 years service will get less than $100 on a sliding-downward scale. Twenty-five years would entitle a man to $250 of $100.

4.—The company will foot all the bills.

5.—A joint board of union and company representatives will serve as arbitrators for the plan.

6.—Permanently disabled workers 55 years or older will get a flat monthly retirement benefit of $50.

7.—Employees with 30 years service may retire anytime after 60 with reduced benefits.

Rep. Olin Teague Opposes Bill For Arms To Europe

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Rep. Olin Teague of College Station, a decorated World War II combat veteran, was the only Texas representative voting against the foreign arms aid bill yesterday.

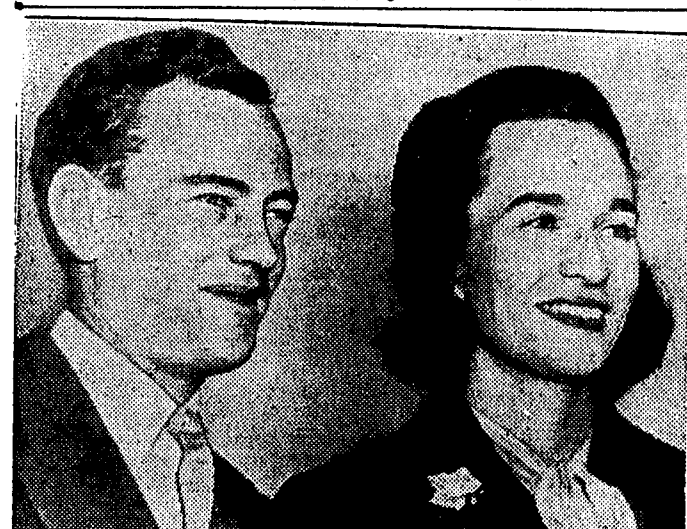

Two Texans, Rep. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls and Clark Fisher of San Angelo, had voted earlier with Teague to commit the compromise measure.

Recommitment was defeated, 213 to 113. It was proposed by opponents of the senate's action in raising the funds first approved by the house from $719,000,000 to $1,314,000,000.

Immediately after recommitment lost out, the bill carrying the larger amount was passed, 223 to 109. Teague told a reporter he felt the arms aid funds would be wasted in Europe and could be spent to much greater advantage at home.

"If Russia should decide to move into Europe, which I don't think they will," he said, "they would take over all this equipment we sent over and use it against us."

"Those countries over there haven't done anything to indicate we should help them, or that they would put up resistance if attacked by Russia."

Proposal For Use Of Sabine River Topic Of Study

BATON ROUGE, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Lieut. Gov. William Dodd has under study today a proposal that Louisiana and Texas work together on a $400,000,000 long-range program for full utilization of Sabine river resources.

The plan, to be presented to Gov. Earl Long later, includes flood control, soil conservation, reforestation and navigation projects.

It was presented to Dodd yesterday by Louisianans and Texans interested in further development of the river which is a boundary between the two states.

The group, headed by John Simmons of Orange, Texas, president of the Texas Sabine River Authority, proposed creation of a Sabine Authority and a Sabine Association for Louisiana as counterparts of agencies recently created in Texas.

Rat Poisoning Is Being Placed

Each Herod of the Corsicana-Navarro Health Unit is placing rat poisoning in the area of the 1500 block of West Third Avenue. The Red Squill bait is being distributed following information of a woman being bitten by a rat recently. The woman has taken rabies treatments, health unit officials said. This is the third case of rat bite reported to the unit this year. Officials said they'd rat poison any area when a request is made.

Dallas Men Seek Permits To Build Video Stations

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Four Dallas men have asked the Federal Communications Commission for permission to build a television station at Lubbock and one at Amarillo.

They are Glenn Terry, Watt W. Winn and Warren E. Massey, Dallas physicians, and Dave C. Edwards, connected with Hillcrest Memorial Hospital in Dallas. Lulu Mae Harrison and A. W. Smith asked for a television station at Beaumont.

Edwards said at Dallas he understood no television permits were being issued now and none would be until the FCC made decisions on very high frequency and color television.

A hearing on those matters is going on now. Edwards said he has been told the hearings may last into January.

He said he couldn't remember the exact channels in the applications for Lubbock and Amarillo.

Corporation Court

Officers Powell, Brown, Blair and Pickering arrested two men for questioning following a complaint by a 15-year-old Dallas girl. The arrests followed a complaint of a disturbance at a tourist court on South 75. One man was arrested at a restaurant and the other at a bus station. They were turned over to county officials.

A former city employee pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing five gallons of gasoline from city-owned vehicles and was fined $10.

Officer Brown arrested a speeder for traveling 55 miles per hour on East Seventh Avenue; a motorist for running a red light and having no operator's license, and one person for intoxication.

Four motorists paid fines for parking violations and officers tagged 14 vehicles for the same offenses.

Mrs. L. J. Vernon Dies At Kerens; Rites Thursday

Mrs. Lillie Jane Vernon, aged 87 years, died at the home of her son, Lewis C. Vernon, east of Kerens, Wednesday afternoon following illness of a year.

Funeral services were held from the First Baptist church in Kerens, of which she was a long-time member, Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Burial was in the Prairie Point cemetery. The rites were conducted by Rev. M. O. Davis, pastor. The body laid in state at the church from 2:30 to 3:30 p. m. Thursday.

A native of East Tennessee, Mrs. Vernon came to Texas at the age of 14 years and was married to the late N. J. Hixon in 1899. Three children were born to this union—Denver Ray Hixon (deceased); Mrs. Gladys Omah McCurdy, Fort Worth, and Mrs. Elbert Sadler, Texas City.

Two years after the death of Hixon, Mrs. Vernon was married to the late Lewis C. Vernon of Kerens. Three children were born to this union—Lewis Comer Vernon and Stephen Alexander Vernon, both of Kerens, and Lillian Grace Speed, Shreveport; three daughters, Mrs. Sarah Johnson Danton; Mrs. Elizabeth Hixon Clark, Tancopa, Tenn.; Mrs. Euphemia Hixon, Clarkrange, Tenn.; 12 grandchildren, three great-grandchildren, and a number of nieces and nephews who reside in Hill county.

ances of 'friendship' for the Soviet Union.

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Yugoslavia joined the Soviet bloc today in a demand that the United Nations throw out Nationalist China's charges of Russian aid to Mao Tse-Tung's Chinese Communists.

Yugoslavia's position was outlined before the U. N. Security Council today in a demand that the United Nations throw out Nationalist China's charges of Russian aid to Mao Tse-Tung's Chinese Communists.

Yugoslav Deputy Foreign Minister Ales Debeler called the conflict in China a civil war and said it would be a blunder for the U. N. to intervene. This, he said, would be taking sides in an ideological war against Communism.

"It would only end in a conflict of the powers," Debeler said, "or in other words, a world war. Therefore Yugoslavia opposes including it in the agenda."

The specific issue before the full assembly in extraordinary session was the recommendation of the 14-nation steering committee that the Chinese complaint be taken up in full-dress debate.

Nationalist China's chief delegate, T. F. Tsiang, opened the session with new charges that Russia had openly violated her 1945 friendship pact with China by helping the Chinese Communists in seizing the Nationalist government as she had promised to do.

Tsiang demanded a full U. N. airing of Russia's part in the civil war. Vladimir Cienkiewicz, former minister of Czechoslovakia, led off the Soviet bloc opposition. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky then took the floor. He called China's complaint a farce and denied Russia had violated the Chinese-Russian treaty.

Vishinsky said: "In answer to the charges about violating the treaty, which are general, I can only say that it is a lie, a provocation, a slander."

Dr. Fred A. Walker, Corsicana Native, New President Of College Of Ozarks

CLARKSVILLE, Ark., Sept. 27.—(Spt.)—A native of Corsicana was named today to the presidency of The College of the Ozarks in Clarksville, Ark. He is Dr. Fred A. Walker, who graduated from Corsicana High School in 1922. His mother, Mrs. W. B. Chauncey, is a resident of Dawson in Navarro county.

Dr. Walker has served as acting head of the institution since September 1, following the resignation of Dr. Wiley Lin Hurie. He has been vice president of the College for more than a year.

Those of us on the Board of Trustees are delighted to have a man of Dr. Walker's high calibre to step into the presidency," R. K. Rodgers, chairman, declared. "He is thoroughly familiar with the ideals and traditions of Ozarks. It is not believe it would be possible to find a more outstanding man for the position."

The College's Board met on the campus today to consider the recommendations offered by the committee instructed to investigate possible successors to Dr. Hurie. Dr. Walker was the unanimous choice both of the committee and the full Board.

During September Dr. Walker has launched an extensive speaking tour of Arkansas. A gifted public speaker, he plans to address alumni groups and other friends of the College throughout the southwest during this school year. Under his leadership, Ozarks has already started an expansion program which is expected to result in an enlarged physical plant and an increased enrollment.

"As president of The College of the Ozarks, my aim shall be the continuation of Dr. Hurie's program of service to the people of the Ozarks region," Dr. Walker said. "I deeply feel the responsibility entrusted to me. I shall do my very best to measure up to the confidence the Board has placed in me."

Dr. Walker is taking over the direction of the oldest college in the state. It was founded in 1834 and has been affiliated with the Presbyterian church throughout the years. At the present time the College has an enrollment of about 600 students. Of this number, 250 are enrolled in the School of Pharmacy. Dr. Hurie served 26 years as president of the College.

Dr. Walker is personally familiar with many of the problems facing college students, since he worked his way through The College of the Ozarks by operating the institution's student bookstore. He was president of his sophomore, junior and senior classes in college and was a member of an Ozark debating team which never was defeated.

After his graduation from Ozarks with the class of 1926, Dr. Walker went to Chicago. There he was graduated from McCormick Theological Seminary. He has a master of arts degree from that school, and has taken post-graduate work in youth training at Columbia University and the University of Chicago.

In 1929 he was married to the former Holga Sorenson, a graduate of the Reformatory Training School at Hull House, Chicago. They have two teen-age daughters.

Dr. Walker has served as pastor of several Presbyterian churches. He was in Arizona two years, where he helped supervise the missionary program carried on by his church with the Indians and Mexicans. From there he went to Milwaukee, Wis., where he was director of a home

IN AND OUT OF SERVICE

Lt. Joseph Morris, whose wife, Bettie Sue, resides at 1415 West Fourth avenue here, has been promoted to the rank of 1st Lt. in the U. S. Air Force. Morris is assigned to the 28th Bomb Squadron, 19th Bombardment Group, on the island of Guam.

Morris is also the squadron coast control officer and information and education officer. Entering the service in 1943, he was commissioned a rated navigator in April of 1945.

William B. Ellis, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ellis, Sr., has enlisted in the U. S. Army in the grade of recruit for a period of three years, the local recruiting office has announced.

Ellis is a recent graduate of Blooming Grove high school and after completing enlistment processing at Waco, was transferred to Ft. Ord, California, for further processing prior to being assigned to a duty station.

Daughter Born To Former Corsicanan

The family circle of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Miller of Zanesville, Ohio, has been enlarged to include a six-weeks-old daughter, Angela. Mrs. Miller was the former Margaret Tarver of this city.

Mrs. W. A. Tarver, who is visiting in the home of her son, Billy Tarver, and family in Austin, will leave for Zanesville at an early date to make the acquaintance of her new grand-daughter.

for dependent boys.

In 1935 Dr. Walker went to Texas, which is his native state, as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church at Brownfield. After serving that church for seven years, he accepted the pastorate of the Bethany Presbyterian Church in Dallas. In 1945 he moved to Farmington, Mo., as superintendent of a large orphanage with about 100 children and 20 on the staff.

During Dr. Walker's tenure at the orphanage, he launched a building program which amounted to about $70,000 in a three-year period. The school's budget was increased from about $55,000 annually to $65,000.

In the summer of 1948, Dr. Walker accepted an invitation from Dr. Hurie to return to his alma mater as vice president. He moved with his family to Chicago and headed the Ozarks promotional campaign in that area. In early August he moved to Clarksville.

Divide Honors In Hereford Cattle Judging At Fair

R. L. Wheelock of Corsicana and the Johnston and Johnston ranch of Madisonville divided honors in the Hereford cattle judging at the Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural Show Wednesday.

Wheelock's entry won the grand champion award in the bull class with Johnston getting the reserve, while in the female grand champion and reserve classifications, Johnston received first and Wheelock was awarded the second honors.

Wheelock-bred animals topped seven of the first ten places in the light steers and five of the first six heavy steers judged in the boys club contest Tuesday afternoon.

Following are the results:

Bulls.
Senior yearling class—1. Johnston; 2. Wheelock.

Pair of calves (bull and heifer)—1. Wheelock; 2. Johnston.

Governors Asked To Discussion Of Railway Strike

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29.—(P)—Governors of 11 states affected by the crippling Missouri Pacific strike have been asked to meet here Thursday, Oct. 6, in an attempt to settle it.

The meeting was arranged yesterday by Gov. Forrest Smith of Missouri, who said he had a settlement plan in mind. He would not discuss details.

In telegrams to governors of the affected area, Smith said the 20-day strike was disrupting economic conditions and that apparently no progress was being made in negotiations between the railroad and the four striking brotherhoods.

The telegrams went to chief executives of Illinois, Tennessee, Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado and Texas.

Negotiators In Rubber Strike Nearer To Accord

DAYTON, O., Sept. 29.—(P)—Negotiators in the month-old strike at the B. F. Goodrich Co. reached tentative agreement on a "no strike" clause today.

A union spokesman said "it looks like we're not too far apart on the remaining six issues."

J. W. Kenner, Goodrich vice president, announced the no-strike agreement during a recess in the weeks-old negotiations.

The union has promised to put into the proposed contract a clause barring strikers during the life of the contract, Kenner said.

He described the no-strike pledge as one of the major barriers to agreement.

Asa Miller, international representation of the CIO United Rubber Workers, confirmed Kenner's announcement. He said the tentative agreement was reached late yesterday.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

District Supervisors Navarro-III: Soil Conservation District: Morris Crawford, chairman; W. C. Pearce, vice-chairman; Thad Jones, secretary.

The following land owners met at Rice, August 24, 1949 and formed the South Rice Soil Conservation Group: Mrs. H. C. Bartlett, Mrs. W. R. Smith, Amos D. Ellis, C. Barton, J. K. Bradley, J. B. Bradley, M. V. Fitzgerald, and J. R. Bowden. Mr. W. E. Church, technician from the Corsicana Work Unit, explained the District program and received applications for the district supervisors. The group plans to meet again soon to discuss classes of land, farm planning, and make dates to go over each farm and work out a complete soil conservation plan. Marvin Wallace, Hester Conservation Group, has reported good results from planting winter cover crops. Approximately 10 bales of cotton were picked from 19 acres this fall. In 1946, 1947, and 1948 he produced approximately 250 pounds of lint cotton per acre. Mr. Wallace bought this badly eroded mixed land farm in 1941. The farm had a basic yield of 170 pounds of lint cotton per acre. This land has had the following treatment: three crops of velvet and 200 lbs. of phosphate per acre, applied every other year. In 1948 corn was sidedressed with 180 lbs. of 5-10-5 commercial fertilizer. Waterways were established in 1942 and 1943, and 4.6 miles of terraces were constructed in 1944.

Two Powell Contestants Win High Honors In Fair Fat Steer Contest

Two Powell contestants walked off with highest honors in the Boys and Girls 4-H and Future Farmers of America Steer Show at the Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural Show Tuesday. Shirley Burnett exhibited the grand champion steer, "Fair Acres Pride," and Boyce Ross, handled the reserve champion, "Shorty."

Ross almost repeated his last year's win in the show ring. In 1948 he showed the grand champion and it took B. J. Baskin, Bryant, who judged the steers, a good while to pick the winner. He said the quality of the steers entered this year was far superior to any recent show.

The grand champion steer and the reserve champion were bred by the Wheelock Hereford Farm.

The grand champion was shown in the light-weight class, under 800 pounds, and the reserve winner in the heavy-weight division. Other placers in the light-weight class, in the order placed, follow:

Melvin Lowe, Powell; Dorothy Grantham, Mildred; Bill Graves, Roane; Henry Graves, Roane; Dorothy Myers, Mildred; Melvin Lowe, Powell; Wesley Graves, Eureka; John Myers, Mildred; and Jimmy Thomas, Eureka.

Other award winners in the heavy-weight class, in the order they finished, follow:

Shirley Burnett, Powell; John Whitten, Mildred; Daniel Link, Palestine; Kenneth Killebrew, Kerens;

Frost High Polar Bears Trampled Centerville Club

The Frost High School Polar Bears show definite possibilities of fighting it out with State Home and Kerens for the District 20-B championship this year.

The West Navarro county entry ripped through the Centerville Tigers at Centerville last Friday night, 54-0, in their non-conference and practice game.

The Frost attack was spearheaded by the excellent running of Walter Lee McClure and Jack Tolbert and the passing of Billy Ray Vest before a stalwart and effective line. McClure led the scoring line.

DAR To Sponsor Rummage Sale

James Blair Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will sponsor a rummage sale all day Saturday on Commerce street, one door south of the Day and Night Garage.

Proceeds will go into the DAR school and building fund, it was announced.

With four touchdowns while Tolbert accounted for three and Vest passed to Adams for other touchdowns. Six extra points were made.

Each member of the Frost squad participated in the game at Centerville.

Dawson Bulldogs meet the Bears in Frost Friday in their opening district melee.

Too Much Advice Spoils The Trip

By GYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer.
Next time I plan to go anywhere, I'm going to keep it a deep, dark secret. It's simply a matter of self-protection. I followed all the experts' advice this time and it was consistently bad. On a recent trip to Europe by air, I had a precious 66 pounds limit on luggage. My typewriter used up seven of those, and the rest was to keep me decently clothed for five weeks. The last time I traveled in Europe it was as a uniformed war correspondent.

Anytime, after consultation with the experts, I started off with a total of six costumes designed to cover any possible emergency, including water-skiing. This was very well planned, with a cape for example which could do duty with formal clothes and an afternoon frock. I had a pair of gold sandals for wear either with a long dress or sports clothes. And three hats—convertible with pins and veils.
Anyway, I'm back now, and a quick check shows I actually wore four of the six—but one was a heavy wool suit (in case of cold weather which never transpired) which I wore only for the plane trip coming and going and then only to save the weight in my luggage. I could have left one-half my stuff at home.
My gold sandals are tarnished from lack of use. I never slung a cape around my shoulders. But I wore a lightweight suit and my one cotton dress to shreds. I also learned that while nylon blouses dry quickly, some must be ironed.
One of my expert friends gave me a long piece of business about traveling in a dressing gown and slippers while in a plane. Air lines, I found, take a dim view of passengers wandering around the terminals in dressing gown and slippers. I did discover that the woman who looked best after a long flight was the one who wore a knit suit.
Another friend said the only way to travel was with a letter of credit. I took traveler's checks because it seemed easier and was glad I did because a couple of letters of credit friends were waiting bitterly they were getting a much lower rate on the exchange than the traveler's check group.

They told me about the advantages of staying at a small hotel in Paris and they even picked a hotel for me. I moved. They said taxis were plentiful and it was a waste of money to rent a car. After spending a solid hour trying vainly to find one of these cheap, plentiful taxis in Paris, I rented a car.
They even recommended restaurants where you could get the best food in the world. Now I know the French for "bicarbonate of soda."
They gave me letters of introduction to charming friends—all of whom were on the Riviera when I was in Paris. They told me about wonderful little shops where you could get things like perfume dirt cheap. The shops usually charged more than one would pay in America.
The moral in all this didn't dawn on me until the other day when I caught myself giving authoritative advice.
People like to give you the benefit of their experience because it gives them a chance to talk about their experience.

Too Many Games—

First Day Impressions Of The Fair

By DON MORRISSEY

Tuesday was children's day, and there were hundreds of them on the grounds, but you wouldn't know it was children's day by the skill games offered on the carnival grounds. . . . Noxious games would be a better name for the lures set out by the operators to snare the nickels and dimes of the small fry. . . . This isn't being written as a move to abolish the games of chance, but we do think the carnival company could have used more discretion than to open these take-a-chance tents on children's day. . . . The diggers displayed in one tent offered money for prizes and very little cash was returned on the 5-cent tries. . . . A gambler could figure better odds on a slot machine. . . . Some of the others were just as bad. . . . Every carnival offers games of chance, they are expected, but let them be played by the elders. . . . At least they should know the value of money and how much they can afford to lose.

On the brighter side, Schafers "Just for Fun Carnival" does have a wide variety of shows and rides, and all in operation Tuesday afternoon were getting a good play. . . . The usual girl shows, crazy houses and menagerie rim the rides. . . . The novelty stands are there by the dozen. . . . It has the appearance of a good, clean carnival. It's interesting to watch the operators of the rides. . . . They always give the motor a little extra power, or provide a little longer ride when there are some cute girls aboard. . . . And, you'll always see one of the hands performing on the ride.

Red Cross Booth. The American Red Cross always willing to lend a hand, has a first aid booth in the fine arts and administration building. Miss Lila Rutherford, Corsicana school nurse was in charge Tuesday, and ably assisted by Mrs. Mary Simpson, Red Cross executive secretary. . . . Other units providing for the comfort and safety of the fair visitors included the Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and the local Rotary Club.

The two bands from the Texas prisons made a big hit. . . . The Stringers from Huntsville, and the Goree Girls from the Goree prison farm, presented several concerts during the day and evening. . . . They are two groups of talented musicians and the crowd enjoyed every moment they were on the stand.

Judging was completed in the club fat steer division. At least 50 percent of the Tuesday afternoon fair goers stopped in the judging pavilion to watch the 4-H boys and girls, and the Future Farmers of America put their animals through the paces. . . . Some mighty fine looking animals in the show. . . . Proof of the success of the above-mentioned clubs. . . . And proof that the boys and girls know how to produce prize-winning animals.

Brown Is Busy.

Herman Brown, general manager of the fair, was busier than a short-tailed horse in fly time. . . . His little office resembled the inside of a boiler factory and it was just about as noisy. . . . "Things will straighten out," he said.

Some mighty pretty exhibits and displays are featured in the various buildings, and the livestock being shown is of the best. . . . The judges will have a hard time picking the community division winners, and those who have to judge the other entries will find it no easier. . . . Lots of fair goers miss these exhibits. . . . If you don't take a peek at the things displayed in the various buildings you'll have missed half the fun of seeing the fair.

A huge tent houses the auto show, where makes and models of all the manufacturers are displayed. . . . This has proved to be a popular meeting place. . . . The locally-owned concession stands were doing a good business. . . . There'll be many a burned finger and many an upset stomach before Saturday night rolls around.

Plenty of Dust.

"Was plenty dusty on the grounds Tuesday afternoon. Wonder if the fair directors couldn't provide some sort of dust holder for the roads and parking grounds?"

Don't miss the Texas Power and Light Co., and local electrical dealers electric tent. . . . Here is displayed electric merchandise that makes every household a brighter, cleaner, more comfortable place to live. . . . Several of the merchants are offering free prizes to the visitors. . . . Better register. . . . It costs you nothing.

We believe some sort of a record was set Tuesday. . . . Up until 3 p. m. not a lost child had been reported.

Beef on Display. There's a lot of beef displayed in the livestock classes. . . . J. Hart and J. Alton Burke, local Brahman breeders, have some crosses that weigh up to 2,500 pounds. . . . Called a Bradford, the animal is a cross between a Brahman and a Hereford. . . . Another cross, a 2,000 pound steer, is a Brahman cross between a Brahman and a Shorthorn. Mitchell Boyd, superintendent of the Brahman division, said there were around 80 head on display, and called it the largest hump-backed show show in Houston and Dallas. . . . B. J. Baskin, Bryan, will judge the Brahman Thursday. . . . Jack Stroube, Corsicana, has entered a 1,850-pound Santa Gertrudis bull. The breed is three-eighths Brahman and five-eighths Shorthorn. . . . Other Brahman distributors include Glen Faver, Jasper; J. N. Edens, Jr., Corsicana; J. V. Bates, Zee Bar ranch, Poteet; Star Brand Cattle Co., Kaufmann; Milam ranch, Glen Rose, and Herman Taylor's HT Stock Farms, Natchitoches, La.

Hereford Class.

The Hereford class is small but potent. . . . Exhibitors are Charles Machemehl, Madisonville, showing MORE MORE cattle from the Ralph A. and William G. Johnston's Hereford ranch, and Maurice Burnett, manager of the Wheeler Hereford Farm, Corsicana. . . . Horace Hayes, Jersey division chairman, said there were 145 entries, including 28 club calves. . . . He broke breeds down into 115 Jerseys and 30 Guernseys. Open and club judging will be Friday. . . . Jersey exhibitors include Cleburne FFA chapter, Knolls Jersey Farms, Sandia; Reese Jersey Farm, Waco; H. Fulston, Cleburne; Horace Hayes, Corsicana; Navarro County 4-H Clubs; Ennis FFA chapter; Anderson County 4-H Club; Freestone County 4-H Club; Armstrong Bros., A. O. Armstrong, IOOF Home, and J. M. Fannin, all of Corsicana. . . . Guernsey exhibitors are Hollex Farms, Dallas, and G. H. Blankenship, Corsicana.

That motorcade to the fair grounds Tuesday night was slow. . . . A steady stream of cars entered the grounds from 6:45 p. m. until after 8. . . . Many a motorist's temper flared, and many bumpers clinked as the procession inched along. . . . The line-up extended from the fair gate back to Main street in Corsicana. . . . A 35 to 45-minute trip for the two miles was considered good time. . . . Many motorists found their motors heating and their generators discharging. . . . The procession moved along a few feet at a time and when one was able to go about 100 feet he felt as happy as a freshman scoring his first touchdown. . . . The Texas highway patrolmen, who were trying to keep the line in order and moving, had a good chance to inspect the lights, windshield wipers and brakes of all the cars. . . . Traffic moved no faster than the cars were quickly parked. . . . Fair Manager Brown said it was the first time the parking lot had been full of cars for a good many years. . . . Perhaps another entrance gate would help solve the highway traffic problem.

Jury Service For Women Is Urged

Jury service for women in Texas is a "must," very near and yet far from certainty, according to Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, writer for the current issue of the official publication of the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs.

Twelve years ago at the 1937 Texas convention in El Paso points out the jurist, "the Texas Federation endorsed jury service for women and ever since then we have worked to further that objective. . . . We have interviewed club members for the Legislature, we have had meetings and radio talks. Gradually we have seen sentiment in the Legislature throughout the state and among our own members change from opposition or indifference to active support."

Women now serve in 36 states and the District of Columbia, states Judge Hughes. In no state in which women have been given the right to serve has that right been repealed. "This is the last mile, B.F.W." writes the jurist. "Let us continue the fight—to convert the opposition and to bring out the favorable votes. You will make me very happy and proud to be a member of the B.F.W."

Mrs. Wimberly Is Group's Hostess

WORTHAM, Sept. 29.—(Sp.)—With Mrs. D. R. Wimberly as hostess in her home, the Central Presbyterian Auxiliary were guests Tuesday afternoon for the regular meeting. Mrs. Jewel Weaver presided over the opening and business session. Of the committee reports, outstanding was overseas sewing and hospital supplies, the quotas of supplies completed and shipped for the distribution points. Highlights of the all day meeting of Vaco Presbyterial at Italy Monday were given from the six members attending.

"The Fragrance of the Knowledge of Christ" was topic of the program led by Mrs. T. B. Pindexter, using as the theme "But thanks be to God in Christ always leads us to triumph, and through us spreads the knowledge of Him everywhere" 2 Cor. 2:14. Participants on the program were: Mrs. W. B. Weaver, Karl Kunkle, H. C. Meador and R. G. Pindexter, speaking on their respective subjects, "The Triumph of God and the Fragrance of the Knowledge of Him in South America—a Venetian Itinerary," "Southern Mountaineers' Special Mention of," "Dale Hollow Larger Parish," Mission Hospitals and Christian medical work in China and India, and "It Happened Northwest of Nanking." "The Fragrance of the Knowledge of Him in Alaska," "On Our North Doorstep" and "Singing Through Alaska."

During the social hour, the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Maud Riley, passed delicious refreshment plates.

Miss Fuller Wed To C. C. Adkins

Miss Nettie Lee Fuller became the bride of Sgt. Carl Cecil Adkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Adkins, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Fuller of Purdon, on Friday evening in a candlelight ceremony read by Dr. J. L. Cartledge. The candles were lighted by Misses Dorothy Orr and La Nelle Floyd.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a green gabardine suit with brown accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Miss Pat Fuller, sister of the bride, served as bridesmaid and Jerry Alton Brown was best man. The bride attended Corsicana High school, and the bridegroom attended Purdon High school and served in the U. S. Air Force eighteen months.

The couple will make their home in Albany, Georgia, where Sgt. Adkins is stationed.

Two Cases Of Scarlet Fever

Two cases of scarlet fever in Corsicana have been reported to the Corsicana-Navarro Health Unit, according to Dr. Will Miller, acting director of the unit.

Dr. Miller said the children are 8 and 12 years old and neither was considered serious. The parents, he said, have been told to keep all other children from entering, he said, have been told to school and other public places, and not to allow other children in the homes. Adults, he said, who use due precautions may continue their regular routine.

TEEN TALK

BY VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures
Locker room scouts report that boys are getting too used to the Dutch treat system. Most of them do not even like to invest in a coke for their best girl. Take heed, gals. If he wants a date, let him pay the tariff. Unless, of course, you know him well...but a new boy, no. You'll spoil it for the other gals, too, if you do. Start the semester off right.

It used to be that if a boy had a dollar allowance, he expected to spend half of it on the girl. Now he looks for a girl who has her own dollar.

LEPRECHAUN COIFFURE
Designed by Victor Vito
Leprechaun Coiffure...That favorite of teen-agers, hair-dresser Victor Vito, has come up with a brand new hairdo, now being worn on Fifth Avenue by stylish school girls. It is close cropped and has such a pixie look, he has named it "Leprechaun." The kids love it because it requires no permanent can be worn without a hat, pins, combs, to keep it smooth. It is short all over, about an inch-and-a-half in back and has hair line bangs. When you wash it, advises Victor, brush the back hair up so that when it dries it will dovetail together. You'll look faun-like in this young hair-do.
Bait for Bookworms—One of the most delightful ideas for teen-agers is "My Private Life" (Lantern Press) a "diary type" record book by Polly Webster. It is a book any teen-age girl would enjoy owning to record her personal story of the joys and triumphs of the happy teen years. It is a diary, perfect camouflage for the girl who would not like to be accused of keeping one, but would like to record fun and finances. There are pages for career plans, big dates and parties, autograph collections, word pictures and snapshots of friends. Records of beauty and health, personality tests. There are places to list favorite radio and movie stars, talk about boy friends and girl friends, pen pals, memory logs such as birthdays and anniversaries. It is indeed a compact little package, a gift that will please any young girl, written by a mother for her own teen-ager. It is delightfully illustrated by Martha Wheeler. A gift for that air-minded young man is Seth Babits "Opportunities in Aviation" published by Vocational Guidance Manuals. Seth covers the air whether you want to know about the Wright Brothers, air cargo or passenger lines. He gives the requirements for future pilots of the coast guard, Marine corps and navy. Even the model plane enthusiast will enjoy Mr. Babits' fine round-up of opportunities in aviation. There is bibliography of preflight and flight training manuals and other aviation books. Whether he wants to own his own plane or work as a field mechanic, this book will be handy for him.

Junior Politics—Young people are getting more interested in politics and how it affects their local community, the nation and the world. Recently, Hamilton College at Clinton, N. Y., (established in 1793) started something new in formal education—a school of politics. The idea was the dream of Alexander N. Lankier, 21, who has been active in N. Y. state politics since he was 10 years old. There are 220 undergraduates registered in the class.

Gertie's Garters—The girl with crooked stocking seams very often has girdle-itis, says Grace Downs, who conducts a model school. Most girls, says Miss Downs, attach their garter improperly, thus cause crooked seams and runs. The correct way? Simple, she says. Just remember that you do not twist stocking, leg and body around to fasten back garter, thereby putting a strain on the stocking. Instead, stand up straight as you pull stockings up to full length. Then bend over from the waist, reaching both hands under the dress, one on either side of the leg, and fasten the garter holding your leg straight.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sewell and children of Mexia visited Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Raines and family Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Vandiver and son of Longview spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Crawford. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Connor of Corsicana visited Mr. and Mrs. Troy Connor Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Watts and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Cliff Wood, in Corsicana. Mr. and Mrs. Jake Corben of Corsicana visited her sister, Mrs. D. E. Eddleman, and family Sunday night. Frances Max Watts and Jessie Raines are spending the week at the Corsicana Fair and Stock Show, where they are showing their club calves. Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Stroder and son, Kenneth, spent Tuesday in Corsicana. Kenneth took his registered Duroc Jersey gilt to show in the livestock exhibit at the fair. Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Dunagan and Curtis Dunagan attended the car races at Corsicana Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. James D. Caffey were in Waco Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Travis Dunagan have returned to their home in Oklahoma City after visiting relatives here.

Married Tuesday
Jules Eugene Spivey and Miss Arlene Dolores Pesch were united in marriage at the courthouse Tuesday afternoon with Judge J. W.

To The People Of The Sixth District:

My Friends:
Recently I resigned as Representative from Navarro County to enter the race for the State Senate in this district in the special election on November 8th.

Personally it has been my practice, in campaigning for public office, to conduct a clean campaign and to present my candidacy to the people in a straightforward manner while discussing with them my qualification and views on public issues. After all the people are the best judges of candidates and their platforms; it appears to me to be unnecessary for a candidate to spend his time pointing out his opponent's demerits.

I was not brought up to criticize, run down, and slander those who might oppose me politically or otherwise. In my opinion, the people of the Sixth District do not want a boastful, mudslinging professional politician as their next State Senator. Although others may campaign in this fashion, I intend to conduct a clean race.

On the basis of my own qualifications, I solicit your vote and influence in the November election.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE NOKES.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

A Big Boost For Smitty!

Stopped into Smith's Department Store the other noon and saw the strangest thing. "Sis" Davis was coming up the stairs from the basement with a bundle of wash. "Is Smitty taking in washing these days?" I asked. "Not quite," she says. "He's just put in a new automatic washing machine, so the girls who work here can get their laundry done while they're eating lunch. Means more time to relax at night and on weekends." I thought what a swell boss Smitty must be. Human relations between the boss and employees have certainly taken a big step forward during my lifetime. From where I sit, people seem to be doing a better job of seeing our neighbor's viewpoint these days. Though his ideas and tastes may not be ours, we can understand his preference for a certain breakfast cereal, a favorite movie star, or for a temperate glass of beer or ale. That's the way it should be in a free country.

Why Do They Want to Put A&P Out of Business?

The answer is to be found in the formal complaint "they" have filed with the court. By "they" we mean, of course, the anti-trust lawyers from Washington who are out to destroy A&P.

They say . . . and these are the anti-trust lawyers' own words . . . that we "have regularly undersold competing retailers."

To this charge we plead guilty:

We confess that for the past 90 years we have constantly stepped up the efficiency of our operations in order to give our customers more and more good food for their money.

The American people have seen nothing wrong in this. By their ever-increasing patronage for 90 years they have shown that they like this low-price policy.

Apparently the people still see nothing wrong in this today. All during the past week – since the anti-trust lawyers made their charges – we have been deluged with phone calls and letters from men and women in all walks of life who want us to know they are opposed to this effort to put A&P out of business.

An enormous number of customers are telling our store managers and clerks that they want to continue to enjoy our low prices for quality foods.

Farmers and other suppliers are asking what they can do to preserve this efficient outlet for their products.

Our 110,000 employees are asking us to protect their jobs and pensions.

Labor leaders are wiring us their opposition to this threat to labor's living standards.

If all these people will be hurt, why then do the anti-trust lawyers want to put A&P out of business?

Low Prices Don't Hurt Anyone

The anti-trust lawyers say because we are able to sell food cheaper than other grocers, we make it impossible for those grocers to compete with us.

If this were true, we should have all the food business in the United States by this time.

Just the opposite is true. In 1933 we had 11.6 per cent of the nation's food business. Now, according to the anti-trust lawyers, our share has decreased to 6.4 per cent in 1948. Anyone can see we have nothing even approaching a monopoly.

As a matter of fact, there are about 30,000 more individual grocers in business today than there were ten years ago.

There are about 275 more food chains in business today than there were ten years ago.

In other words, we have more competitors in the food field and do a smaller share of the nation's food business than before.

Where is this alleged destruction of other grocers? Where is there any evidence of their inability to compete with us?

Do You Want Higher Prices?

As anyone can see, the only purpose that would be served by putting A&P out of business would be to raise food prices.

Who would this benefit?

We were the first merchants to set the pattern for low-cost, low-profit distribution. Our example and our competition has led other grocers to keep their prices down.

Remove A&P from the picture and food prices are bound to go up.

Remove A&P from the picture and the way will be cleared for the destruction of every other efficient large-scale distributor.

Is this what the American people want?

Is this in the public interest?

President Leads Demo Chieftains Into Missouri

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29.—(AP)—President Truman led a Democratic invasion of Missouri today to sound the keynote for the 1950 congressional campaign.

He laid his political mission aside, temporarily this morning, to join with fellow Democrats in a secret ceremony installing new officers of the Missouri Grand Lodge.

He moves on to Kansas City by plane this afternoon for an off-the-cuff talk at a testimonial dinner for the new Democratic national chairman (William M. (Bill) Boyle). The speech will spark the Democrats' 1950 election campaign associates of the President said.

The Kansas City event will be the biggest gathering of prominent Democrats since the inauguration program in Washington.

Cabinet members, heads of departments and agencies and party leaders will be on hand to celebrate Boyle's elevation to the key Democratic position.

Vice President Barkley also is scheduled to attend. He arrived in St. Louis yesterday by commercial airliner.

While Mr. Truman has indicated he will play "dead-off" on the Democratic primary races for the senate and the house, he has said he intends to maintain an active role in the campaign to elect members of the party to congress.

Mr. Truman came to St. Louis primarily as a 33rd degree Mason and a former Grand Master of the Missouri lodge however.

He brought along an historic gavel to present to James Bradford of St. Louis, the new Grand Master.

"It's a lodge meeting and you can't attend," Mr. Truman told reporters.

The ceremony, starting at 9 a. m. (CST) was expected to last three hours. The gavel was made from wood from the Van Buren elm tree at Plainfield, Ind. Martin Van Buren, campaigning for the Presidency, got stuck in the mud under the elm while traveling through Indiana in a horse-drawn buggy.

STEEL

date was set for resumption but a Republic spokesman said either side could call the next meeting.

Agreement of Ford Motor Company to finance pensions and insurance for its workers added new pressure to the U. S. Steel-Murray negotiations. But neither the company nor the union would comment on the Ford settlement.

Ford's willingness to pay for a 10-cent hourly pension and insurance package places a new weapon in the union's hands.

The auto pact conforms to the recommendations of the steel industry. Fact finding board and leaves steel companies standing firm on their refusal to go along on the recommendation that employers bear all expenses.

U. S. Steel and other big producers want employees to share in the costs. The union says that all companies which don't switch over will be struck at 12:01 a. m. Saturday.

Determined Philip Murray, president of the United Steelworkers of America, said today.

Excelsior Springs, Mo., Sept. 29.—So successful has a specialized system proven for treating rheumatism and arthritis that an amazing new book will be sent free to any reader of this paper who will write for it.

The book entitled, "Rheumatism," fully explains why drugs and medicine give only temporary relief and fail to remove the causes of the trouble; explains how you may obtain relief from rheumatism and arthritis.

You incur no obligation in sending for this instructive book. It may be the means of saving you years of untold misery. For writing promptly, the Clinic will send their newly enlarged book entitled, "Rheumatism." Address your letter to The Ball Clinic, Dept. 2927, Excelsior Springs, Missouri, but be sure to write today.

ident of both the CIO and the steel-workers, went ahead with plans to flash the strike signal to about 500,000 unionists in the basic steel industry. Some plants already have begun to curtail operations in preparation for a possible strike.

He gave no sign of giving up his fight to force the steel industry to pay the entire cost of a pension-insurance program.

Government mediators stood by in Pittsburgh and 44 other key negotiating points to help avert the strike set for tomorrow midnight. The Pittsburgh meeting was called for 9 a. m. (CST).

Murray had nothing but scorn for a big steel offer of 10 cents an hour per employee to help finance pensions and insurance for the men who make steel. After the offer yesterday, the veteran labor leader declared:

"It must be plain to all that the corporation is deliberately seeking to force a steel strike."

Various other lists had included Dawson, Pecos, Martin, Matagorda, Liveoak, Bowie, and Johnson. The Harlingen paper said it was understood these had been cleared.

The foreign office said complaints of discrimination may delay sending Braceros to Texas areas, but there is no "black listing."

Two federal officials are scheduled to visit Texas this weekend to discuss problems arising in recruiting of Mexicans who are in this country illegally.

The border patrol has been asking Valley farmers to make their wetback-illegal immigrant-workers presence made legal by applying for them under terms of a U. S.-Mexico agreement.

Under terms of this agreement, employers can get braceros even if there is discrimination. If there are charges of discrimination in any area, contracting may be held up pending an investigation by Mexican consular officials.

But it is presumed on pledges by local authorities that discrimination will be wiped out, the foreign office said.

Don Larin, chief of the Farm Labor Placement Unit of the U. S. Employment Service, is to arrive at Brownsville Friday. He will go to Harlingen for a checkup of the recruiting center there.

Low Rent Housing Project Explained For Civilians By Ft. Worth Attorney

Pertinent questions concerning the proposed low rent housing project for Corsicana were answered before Corsicana Civilians Thursday by J. D. Taylor, Fort Worth, attorney for the Federal Housing Authority.

Members of the newly-constituted local housing authority, Chairman J. D. Taylor, J. E. Trethart, Dr. Wells Stephens, T. R. Red, and Roark Montgomery, were on hand for the session. Pierce was program chairman for the session. Taylor briefly explained the terms by which the project may be obtained here.

"Contrary to the general misconception," Taylor stressed, "the low rent projects are not federally owned. True, the federal government will finance up to 90 per cent of the construction cost, but after that is over, to the best of my knowledge, the government has no say in the project."

"The low rent housing is replacing slums that are a bad business investment for the owners, as well as for the cities in which they are located," Taylor said.

"I will admit," Taylor said, "that after the housing units are finished they are not placed on the tax rolls at the same amount that corresponding private dwellings would be placed, but the new ones, even at the low rate, will pay more in taxes than the old ones that are already there."

"As for competition with private housing," the attorney stated, "the law requires a 20 per cent gap in the rent between the lowest private dwelling and the highest in the low rent housing unit."

Taylor conducted a lengthy question and answer session at the close of his talk.

The main points brought out by the questions were:

Persons on charity are eligible, as tenants, in the new housing, but they must pay rent, and on each, and it is highly unlikely that these persons would pay the rent without supplemental income.

All tenants will not pay the same rent, even for units of the same size, but will pay according to their income.

The bonds for the building of the project are legal investments for banks and even for other political organizations.

As far as possible, contractors will use local labor and local materials in the construction of the project.

Building of the units is limited to 250 in one location. If Corsicana gets the contemplated 300 units it seeks, these will probably be in two separate locations.

Following Taylor's program, the Civilians approved for membership in the club the candidates of Joe L. Butler and Lonnie Watson.

PEOPLE AND ACCIDENTS

It is sometimes a fine thing to keep making new records, but why should Americans set out on every holiday weekend to make a new record for automobile accidents? Gathering the reports of the new death record set over the Labor Day weekend, the National Safety Council and the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies probed again for basic causes.

Much stress has lately been laid on mechanical inspection of cars, in the interest of safer driving, but according to these investigators the human element is more important. Excessive speeds, reckless driving and lack of patience lead the list of reasons for accidents. The great holiday increase in the amount of traffic, with its accompanying slowing down of movement, causes many drivers to be impatient and to throw caution to the winds. These are the times drivers should be most cautious.

The accident problem, like most others involving the actions of people, comes down in the end to individual responsibility. Every driver must accept the fact that, at the wheel of his car, he is responsible for his own safety and that of his passengers and of the other drivers on the road. Careless indifference to the rights of others is inexcusable in any situation. In driving a car it can and often does have fatal consequences.

THE RIGHTS OF PEOPLE

Chicago has a Commission on Human Relations, a group organized by a former mayor as a consultative body to help city agencies in solving problems involving racial and religious disputes. The Commission has recently issued a handbook entitled "Your Civil Rights."

It is designed, says Thomas H. Wright, director of the organization, as an educational document to acquaint the people with "the basic rights of all our citizens." It re-states in simple language the civil statutes and ordinances which exist to protect all races and groups without favor or discrimination. It points out the measures to be taken for redress by any citizen whose rights under these statutes have been violated.

It is sometimes the case that persons most in need of the protection of law are ignorant of ways and means of obtaining it. Such a handbook as Chicago's might often prove a friend indeed. And such an organization as the Chicago Commission, seeking to improve understanding and intelligence application of laws and rights, could ease many a difficult situation.

MODERN INDIA

Political leaders in India are taking advantage of modern educational methods to overcome the handicap of mass illiteracy, according to Brig. Ellen Olsson, a Salvation Army missionary to that country. She says, "The people of India have shed their caste system and have done the habits of an industrial nation."

In accomplishing this change the Indians have bridged an educational gap of centuries. They have brought into use new radio broadcasts of educational programs which are heard from village centers, and mobile motion picture units which show the people how to build homes, make clothing, work their farms, and do many other things.

The Indian people are quick to learn, and leaders and teachers are easily trained to instruct their fellow-

FAMILY CELEBRATION

Make it of angel food, white as the snow;

Frost it and set it with candles aglow!

Print in pink letters the date and the year;

This is the day we should greet with acclaim.

Sing as the cook brings the cake through the door;

It's Ellen Elizabeth's birthday once more!

Once more the family gathers to cheer

The close of the old, and the start of the new;

Long may she live! and though long it may be,

Never will any love more than do we.

One grandma missing! Oh, how I would be here

As Ellen Elizabeth enters the year.

Grandpa and grandma, and I, as I should;

Keeping this day as I promised I would;

Sharing the laughter and joining the song,

For he's just pretending that nothing is wrong.

Tears? No! The asthma! I've had it before.

It's Ellen Elizabeth's birthday once more.

workers. Hospitals, nurseries, and schools are keeping pace with the development of industry. Thus it is shown that a background of centuries of illiteracy is not a permanent bar to progress.

Minds awakened by audio and visual education can easily supplement it by the slower acquisition of reading and writing knowledge. India's surprisingly rapid development is watched with interest in a changing world.

COUNTERFEIT MONEY

Counterfeiting ought to be about the hardest crime to get away with, yet except for the technical details of producing the bogus money it is among the easiest.

This is because most people whose work involves handling money do not take the trouble to learn how to detect counterfeiters, and to watch for them. Consequently the presence of counterfeiters is not noticed until a considerable amount of the fake money has been passed in a community; then a general warning to stop its passing warns the criminals as well as their victims, and they move on.

The nearest Treasury Department office can supply information on detection of counterfeit notes. Further, they usually can be caught by comparison with a genuine bill. Since most counterfeiters are of $10 and $20 bills, storekeepers and cashiers could protect themselves by keeping good notes of those denominations on the tops of their stacks, and comparing each note taken in. Thus they would protect themselves and do the public a service as well.

TREATY FOR JAPAN

Secretary of State Dean Acheson has let it be known that the United States and Great Britain are interested in re-opening the matter of a peace treaty for Japan. Quite a point was made recently of a statement by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, commander of the occupying forces, that the Japanese people have earned a treaty. However, the possibility of making a treaty now seems more remote than ever.

Two years ago the negotiations were suspended because of inability of the United States, Britain and Russia to agree as to which nation should take part in the making of a treaty. Even if agreement on that point could now be reached, treaty conferences could not begin because one of the nations which certainly must be included, China, is hardly in a position to take part.

So it would appear that a treaty for Japan now will have to wait at least until the domestic situation in China clears. As far as Japan is concerned that is no great injustice, since China probably would not now be without a recognizable government if Japan had not disrupted progress by starting the war in 1937. Unfortunately the lack of a treaty with Japan contributes to uncertainty in other areas of the Far East, and is an awkward problem hanging over the relations of the major powers.

THE RISKIEST DRIVING

The dangers of the big city are a by-word, but when it comes to driving hazards, the city is not in it with the rural areas, or so the National Safety Council reports.

There were 32,000 traffic deaths in 1948, of which 21,500 or two thirds occurred in the countryside. The death rate per mile for the country was twice what it was for the cities.

Undoubtedly the great spaces tempt the driver to open up the throttle. Be that as it may, when he leaves the city to go into rural regions, the figures show that he is entering a zone of peril, probably the more perilous because he imagines the opposite to be true.

POLITICAL EXCEPTION

As a general rule, when a Republican organization endorses a Democratic candidate for public office, or vice versa, that is real news.

But there is a frequent exception in the case of judgeships, and so it caused hardly a ripple of excitement the other day when a Republican convention at Mineola, New York, did just that.

There have been innumerable instances of agreement of the parties on the re-election of a judge who has made a good record, and even occasional ones of agreement on selection of a candidate for a vacancy. This is as it should be. The selection of a judge for the bench of the local courts is a matter, perhaps above all others, where the qualifications of the candidates ought to be absolutely the only consideration, and party politics should enter not at all. The judgeship is too vital to all people to be a reward for political fidelity.

AND NOW TIBET

Pity the poor Tibetans? The Chinese Communists announce their intention of "liberating" them. In any case they plan to make the connection closer between the Chinese central government and that of Tibet.

The Tibetans would not object to a mild control by the Chinese; they have had that at times for many centuries, and almost continuously since the Manchu dynasty took over China in the middle of the seventeenth century, conquering Tibet as well. The rigid supervision of Communism, however, is something else again. One consolation is that this would be hard to enforce in the rocky plateaus and deep valleys of the highest nation in the world.

BOLD WORDS

"We despise and hate all enemies of Socialist Yugoslavia, regardless of whether they are led by Churchill or Stalin." This linking of Churchill the arch-enemy of Communism, with Stalin, the leading Communist of the world, comes from two ranking admirals of the Yugoslav fleet.

There is this and other evidence that the breach between Stalin and Tito may be getting ever wider, perhaps approaching the point where it can not be closed again. It may even have reached that stage now, or so the foes of Communism can hope.

TRAINING VETERANS

There is considerable criticism of the new federal act which prevents further enrollments of war veteran students under the so-called G. I. training bill in schools established less than one year.

There is a smaller crowd attended the second day of the Corsicana Fair and Rodeo Wednesday. Herman Brown, general fair manager estimated the attendance at 3,000.

The 11-event rodeo program Wednesday night attracted about 2,000 spectators. The first go-around of the barback bronc riding was completed, as were the first and second go-arounds in the saddle bronc riding, and the first go-around of the wild Brahman bull riding.

Burton Merrill, Cleburne, riding "Mont Ticket," topped first money in the saddle bronc riding, with a total of 285 points. Scopp Davis, Fort Worth, was second with 284 and three riders split third and fourth money. Splitting the two prize monies were Muncie Foster, Clarksville; Lawrence Cary, Mineral Wells, and Alfred Cox, Spicewood. Each had 283 points.

Cotton Proctor, Belton, aboard "Crying Squaw" took first money in the barback bronc riding with 283 points. Cox and Johnny Hastings, Athens, split second and third money with 277 points, and Van Brown, Houston, won fourth with 275.

First money in the Brahman bull riding went to Red Walker, Belton, with 147 points. Merrill and Harold Watson, Belton, split second and third with 144 points, and Junior Connelley, Corsicana, won fourth with 139 points.

Best time in the calf roping contest Wednesday night was turned in by Billy Lucas, Kilgore. He downed his calf in 14.4 seconds.

Other times included Jack Saunders, King, 16.1; Billy Leach, Kilgore, 16.9; Rex Beck, Coleman, 17.7; J. W. Hammock, Irene, 18.1.

The action was taken by Congress as the result of complaints against incompetent, fly-by-night schools, which were set up solely to get a bite of this juicy federal plum. But the flat banning of newly established schools is a lazy and illogical action, since the veterans' training program was itself responsible for a genuine need for new trade schools.

It would seem that the situation could be met by directing the Veterans Administration to make sufficient investigation of a school, before certifying it, to protect the student and the government against fraud and incompetence.

THE FINE PRINT

The Federal Trade Commission, considering whether to establish a code governing time-payment purchase of automobiles to protect the buyer against sharp financial practices, got vigorous protests from representatives of the automobile industry. They said such a code was not necessary, and resented the implication that it was.

Some owners who purchased cars on time in the old days before maximum interest charges were set by law might be of the opinion that industry did not always keep its own house in order.

MRS. H. A. QUAITE PRESENTS PROGRAM OF MUSIC FOR KINSLOE HOUSE LUNCHEON

By BONNIE WRIGHT BYNUM

Sun Society Staff

It was a cozy gathering at Kinsloe House for the weekly membership luncheon Wednesday when Alpha Rho chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma, was hostess organization.

Cozy enough for a guest of dignified years, deportment and appearance to do a rare imitation of a jitterbug as a program postlude in the program.

The dancer shall be nameless, but the pianist shall be praised, anent the program proper.

Mrs. Quaité already had delivered a musically and artistically satisfying piano group including Chopin's "Nocturne in C Minor," Debussy's "Clair de Lune" and "Savre Dance" from the ballet "Gayane" by Khatchaturian. Then to put the cream topping on a musical sundae, Mrs. Quaité sang "Let My Song Fill Your Heart" by Ernest Charles and, for encore, "Through the Years."

The dismissal of the group, and as a request from the body, not content with even so generous a program. It was a toe-tapping time that could have gone on ad infinitum had not the artist finally removed her attractive self from the auditorium grand for a musical call elsewhere.

Mrs. Quaité was introduced by Mrs. G. E. Ramsey Sr. of Blooming Grove, president of Alpha Rho chapter, who recalled that the musician had taught in Trinity University, the State College at Ada, Okla., and Gulf Park College at Gulfport, Miss. She has served as organist at the Waxahachie Presbyterian church, and she will serve as organist for St. John's Episcopal church here.

Mrs. Ramsey was presented to the luncheon audience by Mrs. Ben Griffin of Frost, hostess for the occasion.

Adorning the long luncheon table was an arrangement of bronze chrysanthemums and bright red carnations between red tapered, burnished container and holders were used.

Greek letter place cards marked covers for Mrs. Quaité, Griffin, Ramsey, J. T. Black of Blooming Grove, Earl Boyd, Alino

Tiger Eleven Is Only Undeclared Gen-Tex Outfit

The Corsicana Tigers, without being extended in their first two games of the 1949 season, lead all the members of District 13-AA on both offensive scoring and in defense of its own goal line, figures show.

In addition, the Navarro Bengals are the only member of the district who have not suffered at least one defeat in play thus far this season.

Coach Boyd Payne's Tigers held the top spot in Class AA total offense, according to the Texas High School Statistics Bureau, before last Friday's game with Greenville, when the Tigers downed the Lions, 60-13. It is not likely that the Corsicans average dropped any in that game, since they rolled up over 100 yards on the ground alone.

With the first district game coming up this week, between Ennis and Waxahachie, the rest of the members of this district are still playing non-conference football.

Observers over the district are generally of the opinion that Corsicana will be the only real test of the pre-district season here this Friday night, Sept. 30, when the Tigers are host to Paris, which is also undefeated and untied.

The figures show that Paris is held stronger than any team the Tigers have yet met. Paris has disposed of Sulphur Springs, Kilgore and Longview in three straight weeks, and apparently hasn't been extended too much.

Elsewhere in district 13-AA, the record is varied, but several of the members have played teams generally conceded to be tougher than the Corsicana foes.

Waco lost to Austin, 20-7, beat Bryan, 25-6, and plays Tyler in Waco this Friday. Temple, preseason favorite, has lost two straight games to Thomas Jefferson and Temple, both in the Temple-Texas Wildcat play Kerrville in Temple this Friday.

Cebuene, winner over Fort Worth Tech and loser to Woodrow Wilson of Dallas, plays Stephenville in Cebuene this week. Waxahachie held victories over Stephenville and Bryan, but lost to Corpus Christi last week. The Indians square off against Ennis in the Ellis county capital this week in the district opener.

Hillsboro, with a line boomed as the best in the district, won two close ones from Mineral Wells and Palestine, but went down before Denton last week. The Eagles lost Bryan on the Bronco home ground this week.

Ennis has lost three straight contests in its only outings so far, and all three tough teams. The Lions were downed before Groesbeck, Lufkin and Nacogdoches for a string of losses before their conference encounter with Waxahachie this week.

All present signs point to a first-place race between Waco, Corsicana and Temple for the district crown. Temple could still do an about-face and give every district foe a tough battle. Waco has demonstrated year after year that it isn't well to count them out of the running prematurely.

Coach Boyd Payne, Tiger mentor, gave his own opinion as to what the Navarros can do this season in a statement recently. Said Payne, "This bunch (Corsicana) can either win the district or finish fifth."

Most Corsicana followers, even the most conservative, will not rate the Tigers fifth.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Parade To End Annual Reunion Of Southerners

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 29.—(AP)—A parade today brings the 59th annual Reunion of Confederate Veterans to a close.

The four old soldiers attending the meeting will ride in automobiles over the same route that President Truman marched here last June. The veterans' commander-in-chief, Gen. James W. Moore, has announced through his adjutant that Confederate reunions will be held as long as there are two veterans living.

A Belmont Dennis, newspaper publisher and radio station operator of Covington, Ga., was elected commander-in-chief of the Sons of Confederate Veterans yesterday. Mrs. Roscoe Gerard Rackley of Charleston, N. C., was named president of the Confederate Southern Memorial Association. Both organizations met in conjunction with the reunion.

Strickland Funeral services for G. W. Strickland, 66, who died Tuesday at his home in Waco, were held Thursday afternoon in Waco. Surviving are his wife, three sons, three brothers and four sisters. One son, Professor C. G. Strickland of Baylor U., Waco, formerly was assistant Navarro county school superintendent and was registrar at Navarro Junior College. He also served as superintendent of the Purdon public schools.

THE NATION TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(UPI)—President Truman's program for checking on the loyalty of government workers is two years old Oct. 1.

This is a brief review of how the program came about and what's happened in these two years. Before 1939 the various agencies and departments of government decided whether to employ a man on the basis of his ability and character.

An old rule of the civil service commission, dating back to 1884, blocked questions about the religious or political beliefs of a man applying for a civil service job with the government.

On Aug. 2, 1939, just one month before World War II started, congress passed the Hatch act to keep out of government employ any one who advocated overthrow of this country's form of government.

There were various congressional acts and presidential orders after that date, along the same line, making an employee's loyalty a direct factor in his holding a government job.

In 1946 the house civil service committee finally suggested that a commission—made up of various government officials—be created to study ways of protecting the government against disloyal employees.

On Nov. 25, 1946, President Truman set up the commission. It made its report to him early in 1947. And on March 22, 1947, he issued his order creating the loyalty check program.

A special loyalty review board of 22 men was appointed under Mr. Truman's program. (A number of regional boards were established around the country to deal with persons looking for work with the government.)

If a man's job application were turned down on loyalty grounds, he could appeal to one of those regional boards. If turned down there, he could appeal to the special loyalty review board.

That loyalty review board reported yesterday that, of 332 persons whose loyalty was found questionable by the lower boards, this had happened:

102 were found unfit; 70 found all right by the review board or the department heads and allowed to have their jobs; 12 were sent back to the lower boards for a rehearing; and 148 are now in the process of appealing to their department heads or the loyalty review board.

There are around 2,000,000 federal employees.

(Employees of the atomic energy commission and civilian employees of the Army do not come under this loyalty program. The AEC and the Army have their own programs for loyalty checking.)

Mertens Woman Thrown From Jeep

Mrs. R. J. Warren, 81, of Mertens, is in the P. and S. Hospital with leg and hip injuries sustained at Mertens Thursday morning when a jeep ran into a ditch.

It was reported here that Mrs. Warren and Mrs. T. L. Ratliff, also of Mertens, were riding in a jeep that plunged into a ditch when it got out of control. Mrs. Ratliff was not hurt.

Mrs. Warren was brought here in a McCormick ambulance. X-ray examinations were made.
